Greek Girls Gourmet

DIY WordPress

Maria came to us needing to create an entirely new brand for her Greek seasoning. We designed the logo, purchased and set up her domain name and email, printed business cards, and when she was ready, set up her website. Because Maria is tech savvy and had experience with WordPress, she chose to go with our DIY WordPress package, where we set up hosting and handle technical details, then hand off the website framework, ready to build, for her to design herself. Once her content was up, we jumped in and applied our design eyes to perfect a few things and finish up the technical details.

- URL Registration/Management

"I had an all around amazing experience with Sarah and Cyclone Press. She made it important to understand my business and the image I wanted to create. She also offered bits of advice along the way, to make sure I had addressed all the steps necessary when starting a business. – Maria S.

In 2015, Jessica's existing website was obsolete and wouldn't load on Apple devices. In addition to rebuilding it in a beautiful, user-friendly new format, we consolidated the 4-5 different companies/services she'd been using, and she has a single contact to call with any of her website, tech or billing questions. The new website incorporates galleries, a blog/vlog, integrated scheduling, forms, contracts and project management system integration. We work with with Jessica on an ongoing basis to update the website and help with technical support.

SERVICES PROVIDED:

- URL Transfer/Management
- Email Account Setup (G Suite)
- WordPress Website ReDesign
- Website Galleries, Contracts, Vlog
- Monthly Website Hosting

Bill Filer Language Coach

website design

Bill Filer was the perfect candidate for our small business startup package. As an English language coach beginning from scratch, he needed everything provided in our startup package: domain name registration and email setup, logo design and business cards. We built a brand new WordPress website to educate potential students about his services and sign up for a free coaching session. This process involved developing a workflow, so we were able to build automation into the website's flow.
